STANDING OF CONTESTANTS FOR THE BIG PRIZE OFFERED BY FILM COMPANY

The voting contest to determine who shall be the first movie queen in Nevada, as well as receive $1,000 worth of stock in the Nevada Film Company, Inc., of Tonopah is developing the keenest interest of any contest ever held in southern Nevada. There is only one way to vote and that is by sending in coupons cut from the Bonanza. They must be voted on the day or day following the date of issue so that there is no chance of "holding out."

The votes must be given to Mr. James of the film company, or mailed to him. No employ of the Bonanza is entitled to cast any votes. The contest is being conducted with absolute fairness. Following is the standing of the contestants:

Isabel Davis	35,450
Eleanor Malone	17,850
Edna Sullivan	11,700
Addie Murphy	8,900
Frances Hickcock	4,950

YESTERDAY'S SERVICES PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

(Communicated)

One hundred and fourteen attended Sunday School. We are beginning an extra effort to increase the attendance. We would be glad if every child in Tonopah would attend some Sunday school. If a lot of the grown people will come we will promise to do them no harm.

The morning sermon was from Jesus question to Peter and Peter's answer, John 21-15, 16, 17. The subject for the evening was "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness and all these things shall be added unto you."

The speaker showed that we are to much inclined to seek the other things first and to give God's kingdom a minor place in our lives.

Two solos by Mrs. Neth and Mr. Kanouse were splendidly rendered and thoroughly enjoyed by the large congregation.

The Christian Endeavor Society expects to be in the new room next Sunday evening and all young people of Tonopah are most cordially invited to come to these meetings.

The Ladies' Aid has an all day meeting in the new room Thursday.

The Mendelssohn evening by the choir will be given very soon. A great treat for all music lovers this will doubtless be.

TOO MUCH BEEF IN FAVOR OF RIVERSIDE

TONOPAH DEFEATED BY THE OVERWHELMING SCORE OF 50 TO 0.

Despite the liltate score of 53 to 0 against them, the High School football Team returned to town this morning brimming over with satisfaction and pride in their conquest last Saturday.

Tonopah's team was hopelessly outweighed, the average excess being about fifty pounds. Reno's lightest man weighed just as much as Tonopah's heaviest, and their heaviest man weighed seventy pounds more than Tonopah's heaviest.

In the first quarter the playing of the local boys, won the rout over completely, and during the whole game Tonopah's boosters out rooted Reno boosters to a standstill. Many compliments were heard on the local boys knowledge of the game, and particularly on their ability to stay with the game till the last whistle without weakening under the great odds. Tonopah was not penalized once, and the Reno players but twice—once on an off-side, and once for a bit of roughness that was satisfactorily explained. The game throughout was clean and fair.

The game with Reno High has been made an annual event, and next fall Tonopah will play host to the friends who entertained them so well this last weekend.

A game was to have been played today with the Carson Indian School, but due to injuries to several of the fellows it was cancelled.

EXTENSION HAS TREASURE CHAMBERS

the ledge. A surprise resulted. It was found that at this point there was seemingly no limit to the depth of the ore bodies of the district, nor their continuity to the westward. The eastern limitation of the lens has been reached, but yesterday the drills were still working away merrily to the westward. The ledge at this point contains a horse, but on either side is a measure wider than the drifts, while at one point the stope shows a width of 26 feet and samples taken are of thousand ounce worth.

"Do you send this to mill as it is?" the Bonanza man innocently queried of John Dinan, the geologist of the company, who gave him the underground courtesies. The answer was enigmatical. It was: "It is easier to find low grade to reduce the heads that high grade to raise them."

On the floor of the 1350 the vein continues and there is no one with enough buckles on his boots to say how far down it goes, but it was noted that where the vein is widest a cryptogrammatical mark is painted. Mr. Dinan again satisfied curiosity, "That is where we will winze to meet the Victor crosscut." So it is evident that the Extension is going deeper, but one wonders why there should be any hurry in this direction with the palpable millions overhead. That, however, is Mr. Kirchen's business. If he has any intent to prevent the establishment of bimetallism, well that is his own affair, and a mere newspaper man who bumps his head and scars his shins climbing up his raises and falling down his winzes has no comment to make, and no criticism due. Again the writer inquired of Mr. Dinan: "What is the occasion for these drifts running off from the main vein at acute angles?"

MARSHALL OPENS FAIR

(By Associated Press.) PHOENIX, Nov. 15.—Vice-president Marshall, opened the state fair here today addressing several thousand people.

Subscribe for the Bonanza.

As though it were a matter of no moment, he replied: "The last opening was in what is termed the Breccor vein. It is only six feet wide, but is yielding; as rich ore as there is in the mine. The last opening was on the Footwall vein, which is one of the surprises of the property. This long drift is where the North Merger unites with the Murray and we are getting high-grade there. Then there is the this and that vein, the these and those."

"Oh, mercy, give us the man aboard up signal, for the Extension is getting on our nerves. Show us some waste, or a fault or a bit of country rock. The Extension can't be written up. It might be written down, or it might be written across, or it might not be written at all, but it is too big a proposition for anybody not connected with the Saturday Evening Post or the Ladies' Home Journal."

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATRE

Henry Kolker, the noted dramatic actor, whose achievements on the speaking stage in leading stellar roles in both classical and popular productions have won him a host of admirers in every important theatrical center in America, will be the attraction at the Butler this evening in "The Bridge" or "The Bigger Man," a Metro Five-act Photo-play dealing with aristocracy and wealth. Mr. Kolker, whose most recent stage successes were in the principal roles in "The Greater Name," "The Greyhound," "Our Wives," and "Our Children," the last under the management of Oliver Morosco, will have the support of Renee Kelly and an exceptionally strong cast. "The Bridge" or "The Bigger Man" is a powerful sociological study, adapted for the screen from Rupert Hughes' great stage success of the same name, which enjoyed a long run at the Lyric Theatre, New York City, last season. It affords Mr. Kolker a splendid vehicle for the display of his distinctive powers and is conceded to be a picture of great merit. The preliminary reel will be Pathe Weekly.

To-morrow, Paramount Travel pictures, and "The Spanish Jade," a six-reel Paramount feature.—Adv.
